Five pillars. One purpose.

Our philanthropic strategy is guided by five giving pillars that reflect both our heritage and our responsibility as a food company:

Our impact extends beyond financial contributions. Bob Evans Farms employees actively serve on nonprofit boards, volunteer their expertise, and champion causes that matter deeply to them — multiplying the difference we make.

Our leaders don't just support organizations—they help guide them.

Serving Together: Hearts & Hands Day of Service

Our company-wide day of service brings our values to life across every location. For one dedicated day, employees step away from their desks, trucks and production lines to serve local organizations, strengthening the communities we call home.

In FY2025, teams across the country packed meals, collected essential supplies, and supported veterans, students, and families in need.
